

From the Studio behind Rick and Steve, the Happiest Gay Couple in All the World...

THEY'RE HOTTER THAN THE KARDASHIANS, MORE REAL THAN THE HOUSEWIVES,
AND THEY'VE HAD MORE SEX THAN THE ENTIRE POPULATION OF THE JERSEY SHORE...

Meet the Huffenpuffs!

A dysfunctional family of blow-up sex-dolls who are letting it all hang out and keeping it real in a brand new series documenting every aspect of their crazy lives. It's train-wreck television and you've got an all-access pass!

Juxtaposing seemingly innocent and mundane situations with overt sexual undertones, the Huffenpuffs simultaneously celebrates and lovingly skewers fishbowl television shows like The Kardashians and The Real Housewives, with a dash of Celebrity Rehab. What makes The Huffenpuffs different from those shows? Well, the Huffenpuffs are plastic, air-headed sex-objects -- so, basically, not a hell of a lot. But at least the Huffenpuffs have an excuse, as they just happen to be sex dolls. But all that is behind them, and now they're going mainstream, which means a hit show and all the new opportunities that come with newfound celebrity status -- clothing lines, perfume, underwear ads, number one singles, TMZ coverage, public meltdowns, rehab, and and bicycle pump endorsements.

The Huffenpuffs are aiming to take over the world, the only way they know how. They'll do it with brutal honesty. They'll do it with raw sexuality. And they'll do it with pretty much anyone! But more important, they'll do it with heart. Because underneath those precariously thin layers of latex lie inflatable hearts of gold, which ultimately make them just as "real" as the plastic personalities they serve to lampoon.

Meet the Family

Richard Hufflepuff

Richard Hufflepuff (please don't call him Dick) is the patriarch of what he considers the perfect nuclear family. He's happily oblivious to the fact that his family is highly dysfunctional, and that everywhere he goes he is looked at with shock, fear and yes, even horror.

Fanny-Mae Hufflepuff

Fanny-Mae walks a fine line between southern belle & ghetto-chique. She complains that she suffers from the vapours, but her constant swooning is more likely the result of her not-so-secret prescription-pill habit. (She dabbled with heroin, but found the needles impractical).

Candy Hufflepuff

With a well-deserved reputation for being "romantically-reliable", Candy is extremely popular with the boys. Unfortunately, they never seem to call back the next day. Fortunately, there's a long lineup of potential suitors waiting for a turn, so she's never lonely for long.

Randy Hufflepuff

Randy is very naive and trusting of everyone. As such he is always getting himself into trouble -- in fact, he's been arrested more times than he can count! Randy doesn't mind though -- he gets to go for a ride in the police car, and he's very popular with the super-friendly gentlemen that he meets in the holding tank!

Randy Goes to Rehab!

When Randy comes home high (literally) after experimenting with helium-huffing, Dick and Fanny-Mae first secure him to solid ground, then stage an A&E style intervention. Randy agrees to go to rehab, but escapes en route, raiding a nearby retirement party for helium balloons, horrifying the poor seniors into cardiac arrest. When Randy witnesses the fragility of life, he's scared straight! Hooray!

Farmer Dick!

Out of work again and low on funds, Richard takes the family on a budget vacation to a co-op farm for a working holiday! Richard loves the country life, while Fanny-Mae detests it (though she's really good at milking cows). Meanwhile Candy and Randy party with some migrant workers and wake up in Mexico, where they have a real tropical vacation. (Though they do wonder why they both found little baggies of talcum powder stuffed inside them...)

Dolly Maid

Tired of always having to asking Richard for money to support her prescription pill-habit, Fanny-Mae decides to start her own business. It was supposed to be a Molly Maid service, but her client offers her a position that proves more profitable! Through word-of-mouth her business is soon booming -- But when she sleeps late (from working so much overtime) Dick decides to let her sleep and temp for her next client, with disastrous results!

Fanny-Mae Gets Plastic Surgery

When Fanny-Mae comes back from getting her facial (at the spa) and notices a few wrinkles that she hadn't seen before, she consults a plastic surgeon. She starts with a simple Botox injection, but it leaves her deflated -- launching a chain reaction of increasingly more invasive reconstructive procedures. Can her family convince her it's what's inside that counts? (Even if what's inside is actually just hot air...)
